

Chimmy Cha-Cha

© 2012 by Liz Buchanan

There are busy buzzing bumble bees everywhere I look,
Cool cats in my cereal, cougars who can cook.
Daffy dogs and dinosaurs dwell upon my shelf,
And famous frogs are fabulous, if I say so myself.

I find I'm often gaping at gorillas with a grin,
And hooray for happy hippos who are helping out a hen.
I see the jolly jaguars have been juggling for awhile
And koalas meet the kangaroos in the best "Down-under" style!

Chorus

Oh, look out as the lizards and the lions and the lynx
Give mulberries to the mules, mangoes to the minks.
If nightingales can navigate to the North Pole and back,
Then poodles wearing pompadours will quickly say quack quack!

And the robins and the rhinos will go rambling 'round the town
While the slippery, slithering snakes sure know how to get down.
I don't know if they get tickled when my trumpet tootle toots
Or if the vultures vanish when I wear my velvet boots!

Chorus

Oh can you see the warbler wobble with the wallabee
While my xylophone plays excellently up in yonder tree?
When yaks and stacks of yo-yos go spin a rockin' tune
Then zebras in the zoo will zoom off to the moon!

Chorus