verse one:

The other kids said they didn't like me.
Called me a creep and threatened to strike me.
They pointed fingers. They laughed and jeered.
Claimed I was ugly and terminally weird.
I said...

chorus:

Hey, hey, you-hoo,
I'm just a kid—
I'm just a kid like you.
Hey, hey, you-hoo,
Why do you say what you say,
Do what you do?
Why can't you see
I'm just a kid like you?

verse two:

I stood my ground and stated quite clearly,
"I'm no outsider—no, not even nearly.
I am your neighbor on the family tree.
Look in the mirror—you're just a kid like me!"

(repeat chorus)

bridge:

Why don't you tap on your head
And wake 'em up
Just in case your brains are playin' dead?

verse three:

They said, "If you're so smart, why you shakin'?"
I said, "Because I'm a man in the makin',
And I get scared sometimes in a jam,
But I remember to stick with what I am!"

(repeat chorus)
