verse one:

My name is Vladimir Flannery,
Son of Trina and Trish Tannery.
Each day we squish a mess of fish
Into cans here at the cannery.
The captain of our crew,
A cat named Dog-Man-Doo
That we call Mabel, licks each label.
She likes the taste of glue.

chorus:

Enjoy it while you can.
Enjoy it while you can.
Keep on squishin' all those fish in
According to the plan.
As you pack them in the tin,
Hold on to your grin.
We work a lot, but here's a thought:
Enjoy it while you can.

verse two:

One day...
Our quality surveyor felt
"There's a problem on the conveyor belt.
Aunt Louise, hey, will you please

Be careful when you weigh yer smelt?
You put too much right here."
Louise said, "Oh, my dear,
Aren't you gruff?
How 'bout I stuff
The excess in your ear?"

(repeat chorus)

bridge:

Can, can all the time.
Did I ever mention I'm
Sick of crammin' salmon,
All this jammin', slammin'?
Maybe I should quit,
Simply put an end to it.
Break's over—we all know

(repeat chorus)

outro:

You need the check,
So, what the heck,
Enjoy it while you can.
