

22. SEASONS

(Tune: "Oh, Susannah")

Winter, spring, summer, fall,
Four seasons of the year.
Winter, spring, summer, fall,
I enjoy them all.

First comes winter, with ice and snow. (Pretend to shiver.)
Don't forget your mittens when the cold wind blows. (Hold up hands.)

Next, comes spring when the earth warms up.
Birds sing and flowers bloom. Wake up butter cups. (Flap arms like a bird.)

Then it's summer, with long, hot days. (Pretend to fan self.)
Read, bike, swim and in the sunshine play. (Pretend to swim.)

Finally, it's fall and the earth cools down.
Leaves turn red, yellow, orange and brown. (Wiggle fingers in a downward motion.)

Seasons, seasons, bring changes for all.
Winter, spring, summer, fall. I enjoy them all.

Activities: Let each child make a book about the four seasons by stapling two sheets of paper in half.
Graph children's favorite season.
Make an attribute web of signs, symbols, and sports for each season.
