“You Don’t Know My Momma”

You don’t know my momma, my momma is …

She loves me more that bees love honey
So much, she gives me bread every morning
She’s sweeter than a sweet potato
And stronger than a big tornado

You don’t know my momma, my momma is …

Let me tell you a little something about my momma –

She’s stronger than the wind, the ocean tide
I feel so safe with her by my side
Sweet as chocolate, a newborn baby
She’s a strong woman, I don’t mean maybe
And anywhere that we might be, she’s always made a home for me
If you’re messin’ with my momma, you’re messin’ with me.

You don’t know my momma, my momma is …

She likes movies and likes to play games
She loves her family more that anything
She reminds me of the scent of heaven
You know she makes the best fried chicken
