

1. Some Rights In This World

(words & music by Jan Nigro, © 1994 Janimation Music BMI)

A wonderful human rights song from Ithaca's Vitamin L.

(Chorus:)

I've got some rights, some rights in this world.
You've got some rights, some rights in this world.
Just by being born, every boy and girl,
Automatically got some rights in this world.

I must be free to think my thoughts,
and to say what I must say;
To believe in what I believe,
and I don't believe that anyone should take it all away, Hey: (Chorus)

I need to feel safe in the streets
And at home and school each day.
I've got to love who I naturally love,
and if someone tells me different, this is what I'm gonna say, Hey: (Chorus)

Now, there are people on this earth
who are still not treated fair.
No, they don't have the rights they deserve
So let's sing this song for everybody, everywhere -

(Chorus - 3x)
